Martin Luther King Jr. holiday was a Day On for Retail Employees Credit Union volunteers

January 19, 2009 (Atlanta, Georgia) - RECUCU celebrated the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday as day On, not a day Off along with the Macy's Partners in Time volunteers. The RECUCU team included employees, spouses, and children who spent the day painting the W. W. Woolfolk Boys & Girls Club of Atlanta. Their involvement, in concert with thousands of others nationwide, helped to make the 2009 King Day of Service the largest ever!

“Service is a solution that can bring us closer to Dr. King’s dream of a better America,” said RECUCU MSR, Leah Pryor, “While our nation has made great progress, we still have much more to do.” Fellow painter and RECUCU President, Jeanne Kucey, remarked “I’m so impressed with the turn-out. When we announced this event several of our team members stepped up to volunteer right away”.
